

Making Coca-Cola at home

It is time for experiments! In one of the famous anime “Doctor Stone”, it showed an experiment of making Coca-Cola at home. According to the plot, all of humanity has been turned to stone for several millennia. When the main character woke up, he has set a goal to rebuild civilization with the help of his knowledge in science. In order to conduct an experiment of making of Coca-Cola, you will need the following ingredients:

- |                        |           |
|------------------------|-----------|
| • Sparkling water      | 0.5 litre |
| • Cilantro (coriander) |           |
| • Lime                 | 1 piece   |
| • Honey                |           |

Cooking Instructions:

1. Grind the peel of lime and squeeze the juice into a container.
2. Mince cilantro (coriander).
3. Mix and crush all of it up!
4. Caramelize honey, so boil honey until a dark color appears.
5. Mix the resulting caramel with squeezed lime and cilantro juice.
6. The resulting “solution” is passed through a sieve to get rid of the cut leaves and is added to sparkling water.

That’s all! According to Mecha Senku, you should have a drink with the typical smell of Coca-Cola. The practice of many YouTube bloggers has shown that the color can differ significantly from the real Coke, but the taste and smell should match.